

September 12, 2007

Extension Line

From: Donald G. Avis, County Extension Education Director

Tree Workshop September 18 to Feature ISU Forestry Expert - Get Your Questions Answered; Free Admission

Do you have questions on what type of tree to plant in that open spot in your yard? Would you like the latest recommendations for tree specie to plant in Northwest Iowa? Are you concerned about the emerald ash borer and if this insect will impact trees in our area? If you have these type of questions, then plan on attending our Tree Workshop at 2:00 p.m. with the featured speaker being forestry expert Tivon Feely from Iowa State University Extension Forestry Department. Feely will answer these questions in a classroom setting along with field identification of specific topics. A tree planting will also be part of our Open House ceremony to celebrate Iowa State University's 150th Birthday and also to answer any questions on correct tree planting methods.

After attending the workshop you are invited to help Cherokee County Extension celebrate the 150th Birthday of Iowa State University (ISU) from 4-6 p.m. on September 18 at the Extension office located at 209 Centennial Drive in Cherokee. A special appearance will be made by Cy, ISU's mascot, so bring the whole family and have your picture taken with Cy. Free ISU tattoos will be available for the kids and adults too!! Cake and refreshments will be served, courtesy of the Cherokee County Extension Council.

Mark your calendars and come help us celebrate the 150th birthday for Iowa State University. Everyone is welcome.

Mark your calendars and come help us celebrate the 150th birthday for Iowa State University. Everyone is welcome.

